

OUR SERVICE

- We will consider whether the Payment Protection Insurance (PPI) policies submitted for review have been sold fairly and whether the provider has acted in breach of contract or duty.
- We will calculate the amount owed to you by the provider in respect of PPI claims submitted for review, and negotiate with the Provider to secure compensation in respect of PPI policies that we can identify as having been miss-sold.
- We will inform you of any offer made by a Provider and will advise you whether we consider the offer to be fair and reasonable.
- We will not agree anything without your approval.
- If you decide to reject an offer or advice that we have recommended which we have advised is fair and reasonable we will not be under any obligation to continue to act for you in respect of that claim but are entitled to charge our success fees.
- If we decide that you are or may be entitled to any compensation in respect of a claim that you have submitted, we may nominate a 3rd party to act on your behalf. In this instance we will prepare and submit the detail of the claim to the 3rd party on your behalf
- We may require the 3rd party to provide us with an undertaking to pay any additional fees which may become due to us under this agreement out of any compensation received on your behalf before we release any documentation to them. The 3rd party may issue you with separate terms.

SUCCESS

- We will be considered to have been successful if you receive compensation from the provider of the PPI claim you have submitted for review (the "amount recovered").
- The amount recovered will be calculated against the total monies and the full value of benefits offered by the PPI Provider whether as compensation, a gesture of goodwill, policy refund or rebate, discount, reduction in the sum outstanding or otherwise arising from the claim made.
- A payment of compensation will be considered to have been paid by the creditor and received by you whether the amount is in fact paid to you or us, or is set off by the creditor against any other liability which you may have to the creditor.
- If we are successful we will charge you a success fee of 25% of the total amount recovered.
- If you choose to pay us an upfront administration fee on appointment of our services, we will off-set this amount from the total amount recovered before charging you a success fee of 25% of the total amount remaining.
- All of our fees are inclusive of VAT.
